Enhancing architecture

The Sahara Collection brings a touch of glamour and life to projects with a high performance powder coating finish. With a wide range of traditional and trending colours, The Sahara Collection enhances projects with a lasting, attractive finish that protects components of the building from wear and tear.

Combining a high degree of protection with sustainability, coatings from The Sahara Collection are designed for the long term and provide qualities that enrich the appearance of the coated components.

Superior protection for long lasting appearance

Surfaces coated with The Sahara Collection are mar and scratch forgiving. This is an attractive design feature in polluted environments where sand and dust can damage coated surfaces and in public areas where human impact is possible. Durability and exterior performance of the coatings are supported by Qualicoat Class 1 and Class 2 as well as GSB Standard and Master Qualifications. The coatings also perform to AAMA 2603 and 2604 requirements.

The Sahara Collection goes beyond standard finishes by protecting coated components during handling, transportation and installation on site. This minimises the risk of claims, returns, repairs and delays. On-going building maintenance is also reduced and sustainability achieved, as the coated surface stays clean and intact for a longer period of time.

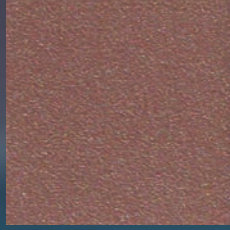

Bring a touch of uniqueness to your design

The Sahara Collection offers a wide range of colours which are also available with stylish metallic effects. Colours can be custom-made on request, bringing uniqueness and class to facades and building components. Powder coatings from The Sahara Collection also help to conceal imperfections of the substrate such as die lines and welds, further enhancing the resulting appearance.
